LADIES AUXILIARY MEETS ON TUESDAY, JUNE 6

The next meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Patrons will be held in Room 413 on Tuesday afternoon, June 6, at 1:30 o'clock.

An interesting program has been arranged, including a book review by Mrs. J. P. Schumacher, as well as other entertainment, and election of officers.

Field Day Aud Session Set for This Morning

This morning there is to be a pep session for the interscholastic track meet which is to be held this afternoon. The highlights of the program will be the performance of our own Southwest band and the school yells, led by our cheer leaders. Come on, Southwesterners, let's hear some real cheering this morning and this afternoon! Mr. Kittlaus is to explain how the scoring in the meet is handled. Miss Meyer will have her singing groups on the stage to lead the school in singing some of the school songs. As everyone knows, school is dismissed at noon today, so let's all get out to the stadium and cheer for the Green and Gold.

COMPREHENSIVE REVIEWS START ON JUNE 2

The comprehensive reviews for this semester will begin next Friday and continue through the following Wednesday. A review period will last two regular class periods. There will be two reviews a day. On these days all other periods besides the review periods will be used as study periods; i. e., two reviews a day, a lunch period, and the remaining three periods for study.

Young Citizens' Day Aud Planned for May 29

The Young Citizens' Board of Southwest is planning an auditorium session for Monday, May 29, which is the day designated as "Young Citizens' Day." Bob Walker, chairman, will be in charge of the program.

There will be a guest speaker. Other features of the program will be selections by the band and symphony chorus, and the reading of the essays and poems that were chosen as Southwest's entries for the city-wide contest.

Jocille McIntyre and Robert Van Houten will read their poems. Carol Travis and Dick Hopmann will read their essays.

VICTOR BRUNING SEEKS PART IN CIVIC THEATER

Victor Bruning, a semester 6 student at Southwest, is a candidate for a part in one of the six plays to be given this summer by the Civic Theater of St. Louis in its outdoor woodland amphitheater on Warson Road. On Saturday, May 13, the St. Louis Star-Times carried a picture of Victor along with that of another candidate. The picture was entitled "They Want to Be Actors."

F. KRILL NOMINATED FOR SWOPE SCHOLARSHIP

In accordance with a request from Walter McCourt, Chairman of the Memorial Scholarship Fund Committee, that an outstanding senior from each of the St. Louis public high schools be recommended for the Swope Scholarship, the name of Francis Krill has been submitted by Southwest.

In making a final choice from the names submitted from the various high schools, scholastic record, personality, psychological test results, and other information of this type concerning the candidate will be considered. Those chosen may attend the college of their choice, inasmuch as an award from this fund is in the nature of a loan which is to be repaid when the recipient is able to do so.

FAREWELL TO SENIORS

The orchestra begins the processional march and a hush falls over the expectant audience. Slowly the seniors enter, take their places, and begin the commencement exercises. The eyes of many grow dim with tears as the diplomas are awarded.

We bid farewell to you, the seniors, of the first graduating class of Southwest; and we, who are being left behind, wish you boundless happiness and continued success in your undertakings. Someone had to pave the way for future graduating classes and Fate chose you as her ministers. In your absence we shall have to assume increased responsibilities but the vacancies that you are leaving behind will never quite be filled again.

On the Pioneer staff Jean Freund, especially, will leave a vacancy difficult to fill. She has served as editor of the Pioneer for two terms, giving freely of her time and energy. She has set a high standard for the editors who will succeed her.

To all seniors we extend our heartiest congratulations, certain in the belief that the spirit of Southwest—that of pioneering—will guide you in the future.

FAREWELL TO ALMA MATER

"Write it on your heart that every day is the best day of the year."—Emerson.

Dear Alma Mater:

Every day may be the best day in the year, but every day is not the happiest day of the year. On June 14 we leave your noble portals; and this day, although it may be the best day in our lives, will also be one of the most sorrowful. We will leave your comforting protection and go out into the world to seek a place in it and earn a name for ourselves.

We thank you and your faithful helpers, the principals and teachers, for the invaluable assistance and help you have given us. It is not now but in the future that we shall fully realize the significance of this aid. And as we walk from your doors that last night, we shall be happy but sad to leave you and yours. Therefore, it is with heavy heart that we, the first graduating class of Southwest, bid you, the teachers, the students, and everyone connected with you, farewell.

Sincerely yours,

Glennon Meyrose

President class of June '39

MR. SACKETT AND MR. DEE BID FAREWELL TO PIONEERING CLASS

A word of farewell always seems to call for a tone of sadness, but I want to express a feeling of joy to you seniors in having successfully completed your high school course and I wish to remind you that all the happiness of life is not limited to the years in high school but that you may hope for happiness all your lives. I wish it for all of you.

C. H. Sackett

Time: May 26, 1955, 8 a. m.

"Paper, paper," yelled a boy on the corner of a busy street in St. Louis.

"Good morning, Dr. Sisk," he said as a distinguished looking gentleman stopped to buy a paper.

"How is everything this morning, Johnny?" the man asked as he began to read his paper.

"Swell," called back the freckle-faced youngster. "Your hunch was right, Dr. Sisk. Jack Nangle was sent to Washington last night by the governor. I guess we'll see some action now."

Nodding with approval, he passed into a huge building. Pausing for a few moments, he read the headlines of several articles. "Jean Freund, Former School Teacher, Elected to School Board." "Bill Buck appointed to Consular Service by President." "George Hall Hurls Two No-Hit No-Run Games." "Terry Tomlinson Signs Contract."

Glancing hurriedly at his watch, Dr. Sisk started for the elevator. As he entered, the elevator boy piped out, "Morning, Dr. Sisk. Nancy Nickles, the opera star, just went up to your office. She looked sort of disgusted and a dark-haired lady with her said Miss Nickles had laryngitis and couldn't talk."

"Thank you, Freddy," said Dr. Sisk. "Your hero, Kenneth Bien, broke the record on his last round-the-world flight, I see."

"Yes, sir. Some day I'm going to do something like that, too."

With a jerk the elevator stopped and as the doctor stepped forth he bumped into a blond, curly-headed man with a portfolio beneath his arm.

"Well, Jim Wortman!" exclaimed the doctor. "Where did you come from?"

"I was just up to see Lawrence Gensbacher about some drawings we're to do. By the way, I'm to do a portrait for June Ferrell, who married the oil millionaire, so I'd better hurry."

Bidding each other farewell, they departed on their way. As the doctor entered his office, he saw the distressed Miss Nickles. The dark-haired lady, whom the elevator boy spoke of, was apparently an old friend as he called her Jane Jackson. Miss Nickles looked on with a woebegone expression as Jane and the doctor carried on a conversation. While they were talking, a telephone call came for the doctor. The message was from Ruth Sellars, star of a current Broadway hit, who was in town for the day. "She was wondering if the doctor could help stop the nervousness she was having of late. After hearing all her symptoms, the doctor referred her to a well-known psychologist Virginia Risch. After the message, the doctor was interrupted by Ruth Lightner, personal secretary to Gilbert Russo, the doctor's lawyer.

Dr. Sisk finally got Miss Nickles' case cleared up, only to be called out on an emergency to an engineering project, where the chief engineer, Melvin Kallmeyer, had just had an accident. Upon arriving on the scene, he found Fred Tornatore, reporter for one of the two largest papers in town arguing with John Ameis, reporter for the other of the two.

An hour later, as the doctor was leaving the scene of the accident, he heaved a sigh. Dawn, slowly closing in, marked the end of a perfect day.

Southwest High Approved By North Central Association

NORTH CENTRAL ASSOCIATION
OF
COLLEGES AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS
FOUNDED 1895

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT THE SOUTHWEST HIGH SCHOOL, ST. LOUIS is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and that this school has been approved continuously by the Association since 1939. This certificate is valid as long as this school meets the conditions for membership and maintains standards of excellence as defined by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Whenever a school is dropped from the list of approved secondary schools, this certificate becomes the property of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and must be returned to its secretary.

ISSUED May 1, 1939.

John Rufi, State Chairman
Geo. A. Works, President
W. W. Haggard, Secretary

The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools approves both secondary schools and institutions of higher learning in twenty states comprising a large portion of North Central and Central United States reaching from Montana in the Northwest and Arizona and New Mexico in the Southwest to Ohio, Indiana, and West Virginia in the East.

Certain advantages result from such approval. Some of these are that graduates of any approved high school are privileged to enter institutions of higher learning within the North Central states without entrance examinations, provided they have the necessary credits required by the college or university they wish to enter; graduates may be sure that their high school diplomas will be acceptable to state boards having to do with the granting of certificates for various professions such as medicine, dentistry, and law; the community may be assured of a program of modern high school education in order that the school can maintain the high standards required by the Association.

FAREWELL TO THEE, OUR CLASS OF '39

Symbolic of our standards,
The products of our creed,
You represent our goal-post;
Now you must take the lead.

For those to come will follow
The way that you define:
We're proud that you're Southwesterners—
Our class of '39.

But, before you leave us,
With "farewell" we would combine,
"Best wishes for each future
In our class of '39."

WHAT PROVIDENCE HAS PROVIDED

The cool green oasis stood
Amid the brown of the desert;
Offering protection to the wandering Arab,
Offering protection from the coppery sun.
Giving water to the dry, parched lips,
Giving food to the shriveled throats.
Behind the offering of the shade,
Behind the giving of the water,
Behind the giving of the food,
Behind it all—is God.

FASHIONS FACTS AND FANCIES

As the exciting occasion of Southwest's first commencement approaches nearer and nearer, we think it timely to give you what information we can on the robes for the event. The boys are said to be secretly enthralled with their commencement raiment because it is a flattering shade of blue. The girls' gowns are of white, with cream-colored collars to provide easier harmony between robe and complexion. All the robes have a zipper down the front, full sleeves, and are made of a light weight material, which will probably be appreciated on an uncomfortably hot June day. The tassels on the caps are to be a mixture of blue and white.

Did you ever have a desire, be it ever so faint, to look Hawaiian? Even if you have not, you have a chance to look quite fetching in a woven green or gold lei. They are being sold in honor of our participation this afternoon in the Field Day. Atop a dress which is to be green and white, if possible, you are to wear this lei, and perhaps wave, also, a shaker of the same green or gold. We hope Southwest will not stint itself in turning out an overwhelming number of students for the event. Let us spare neither lung-power nor enthusiasm in urging our teams on to victory.

Beauty Hints to Feminine Seniors—

Don't: Be in too great a whirl of excitement and anticipation, for on this day of days you must look your best in every detail. Yes, your nails are well-groomed, and your hair is at its best. But wait—that stocking seam is crooked—looks like the wire off your Sunday morning paper. And your tassel is in a peculiar place, giving your right eye a singularly inquiring expression. Those minor matters attended to, you look beautiful. Congratulations and the best of luck.

P. T. A. SPONSORS PARTY FOR JUNE GRADUATES

The P. T. A. will give a party for the graduates on June 2 at the school.

The regular May meeting of the P. T. A. was well attended. There were visitors from twelve schools. A program was presented, and a tea was given following the program.

The organization wishes to thank Miss Reilly, Mr. Monachesi, and Miss Meyer for their contribution to the program.

And a special vote of thanks goes to Mr. Sackett and his office force for their cooperation.

Have you noticed the attractive display of fluffs and leis in the main corridor case? A group of girls who were interested designed and carried out this colorful display.

Senior Survey

Dear Graduates:

For prominent places in your album of memories, we nominate the following candid shots:

Russel Rodden having a hilariously happy time in Mr. Rieman's math class.

Marie Auen rehearsing for her part in the senior play.

Jimmie Sisk making a speech and "quirking" his eyebrows, as usual.

Mary Louise Roedder trying to smother her giggles over her typewriter.

Don Pepple doing an ultra-ultra swan dance on the track.

June Ferrell leaping from the floor to the table in the senior play without aid of the stool.

Tony Carosello muttering to himself and rushing down the steps.

Virginia Anderson floating about the halls absently humming to herself.

Jack Nangle hanging his head and blushing at smiling fems.

Pat and Jane Roessel dashing down the hall, late for class as usual.

Eugene Weingartner impersonating Hitler at the masquerade.

Rita Hein hiccupping in study hall and scaring everyone.

Bill Whiteley moaning about gaining weight.

Afteheia Pappageorge begging teachers for a good grade.

A last farewell from your correspondents,

W. E. Dumeau

WIENER ROAST CLIMAXES WORK OF SPELLING CLUB

Wednesday afternoon, May 24, the Spelling Club gave a wiener roast as a climax to the events of the term. Each member invited a guest and approximately 25 in all attended. The refreshments consisted of wieners, buns, and marshmallows. Games were played, and the event, as a whole, was a great success.

MEMBERS OF STAMP CLUB GIVE PARTY ON MAY 17

The members of the Stamp Club gave a party Wednesday afternoon, May 17. A number of amusing games were played and then refreshments, which consisted of ice cream and cake, were served in the lunchroom.

A June '39 Romance

Once upon a time a Young Blschan was stepping Springll up Waterstreet which Linked Roessel and Jackson Rhodes. The night was Lightner than usual, Auen his Stocke Young frame Nuelle clothed, in uniform Auen Paddon Craine slowly down the street. He was no Cunningham or Taylor and his Wool needed trimming; but in the Gray night which was Moore Whitely he saw a Turln car Pansansi down the street, "Hoeh-le," he called, when a Horn-beck of him blew, "give me a whiff of that cigar." "Gollish," he muttered, "that tastes like a Hempen rope." He tried to cut across a Penfield but the sign said, "Keep off the Grasse or we'll Nangle you." "I wonder if I should Kallmeyer to go Ferlisi or Risch going by my Delf," he pondered. His Ameis were in Schoen-Berg that he could Mary Jane, who was some Doll, and gave him a Krill. "I have Lutz of Nickles and I Gambaro Moore," he bragged, "cause I am chief Gorman at the hotel." He had to Burkhardt at his job, yet he read all the best Sellars. Finally he arrived in her Hall. He Metz-ger Pappa-george And-er-son Theodore, but her Neace stayed be-Hein the door.

When at last they were alone he whispered his love. "I'd like to Goebel you up," said he, "Elsen-reich dough now. Yalser, Elsen-reich dough." "Let me Carosello you to Hyltone near Rothenburg," he muttered. Cutelli Baron his teeth. "Faust, John, Weingartner you ask me sooner," she sighed, leaning a Glnther Freund Kelly of the Kackley Kelly's. "Tomlinson already asked me." Tonight he is going to toss Pepples at my window Auen when I climb down the ladder he will Terry me on a double Decker to Johnston City. "Rodden luck, John, but I might become a Hag-emeister, if I waited for you." "I must have Britt off more than I could chew," he growled. "Ferrell, June. By the way, Mey-rose come out?" "I'll Mossup the ground with you," she screamed. "Meyer," he thought, as she threw a Duba that her Kunkel, who was ordinarily a Lightsinger, blew in the town Bahn. He went over to Adelyn's and never came Back. She doesn't know why but Finot, don't we?

Senior Will

We, the senior class of June, 1939, of Southwest High School, of the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, being of sound mind and good health and memory, do therefore make, ordain, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament.

We do bequeath to our worthy successors our weekly "battle royal", better known as senior meeting.

We do bequeath to the tender care of the lunchroom custodian, our delicate appetites. Do we not, Glen?

We do bequeath to the freshmen our tardy slips, detained slips, cut slips, and all such records of our scholastic merit.

We do bequeath Jack Mossop's wavy hair, together with his historical aptitude, to George Mueller. We'd bequeath his jokes to him too, but they should have been buried long ago.

We do bequeath Glen Meyrose's executive ability, along with his bowling trophies, to Henry Kuna, a logical successor.

We do bequeath Bill Buck's "gift of gab" to Joe Joyce. May it serve him as profitably as it did Bill.

We do bequeath Alice Scherstuhl's and Joan Murray's favorite Jitterbug "humbug" to Gloria Sicking and Mary Xinos.

Last, but not least, and in a more serious vein, we do bequeath to the lower termers, particularly the present "7's", our grateful appreciation of Mr. Sackett's, Mr. Dee's, in fact the whole faculty's efforts to furnish us with the necessities of attaining our various goals in life.

ALL HIGH SCHOOL BAND PLAYS AT AUD, MAY 15

On Monday, May 15, the All High School Band displayed the fruits of their endeavors in an auditorium session. With Mr. Hares as conductor the band played several selections, among them the "Symphonie Militaire" by Hayden, a fete worthy of the applause it received. Mr. Monachesi and Mr. Humpfeld of McKinley also conducted at the request of Mr. Hares.

Mr. Powell, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction, addressed the session concerning the band and the tours it has made. He stressed their ability to endure the strain of giving six concerts a day and being just as good at the last as at the first.

Also introduced at this aud were June Langhauser, national trombone winner at Little Rock, Arkansas, who favored us with a trombone solo; Janet Marx, who won the flute contest; Marvin Levy, the tenor saxophone; and Bernice Ispit, the band's harpist, who won on the piano.

As the program drew to a close, the Allegiance to the Flag was pledged and the Star Spangled Banner sung.

Eyes and Ears Of the Corridor

A popular statement among a few disappointed seniors:

"Four years and not a ride on the elevator!"

It is said that Jimmie Sisk owes his success to his dimples.

A suggestion has been made that the senior class should pitch in and purchase goldfish for the practice of those who are going to college.

Also, there are those who say—"I'm glad to get out; it's monotonous being a senior so long."

Spring fever is really getting bad. One boy: "Let's skip this class." The other: "Can't I'm too sleepy."

George Kovaka, a little confused from making out his assignment card for next year, exclaimed: "Dog-gone it, now I can't even remember what term lunch I am!"

Concerning his future, a certain senior declared that he was going to settle down and raise chickens. "Better raise owls," remarked another senior. "They suit your hours better."

"Did I tell you about the awful fright I had at the last school dance?" "Careful," warned Bob Murphy, "you oughtn't to talk about girls that way."

Teacher: "Explain to me why you have quotation marks around all your answers on this examination paper, Miss Miller." "Just a little courtesy to the girl on the left, sir," was the reply.

GIRLS SWIMMING CLUB TAKES PART IN MEET

Thursday, May 11, the girls in the Southwest Swimming Club participated in a swimming meet held at the Carondelet Pool. The results were as follows:

The winners in the novice race were Rita Fay Wicker, first; Jane Rast, second; and Jane Schwartz, third.

The winners in the 60-yard race were June Whalen, first; Mildred Dell, second; and Reva Lee Miller, third.

In the 120-yard race Arlene Francis was first; Pat Hurst, second; and Betty Kauffmann, third.

In the 240-yard race Mary Werngren was first; Arlene Francis, second; and Betty Kauffmann, third.

In demonstrating the sidestroke, Lorraine Offenbecker took first place; Betty Kauffmann, second; and Helen Kellar, third.

In demonstrating the crawl, Mary Werngren placed first; June Whalen, second; and Arlene Francis, third.

In the relay race, the winning team consisted of Arlene Francis, Mary Werngren, and Pat Hurst.

Southwest Longhorns Hand McKinley Goldbugs Their First Defeat

The champion McKinley Goldbugs suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Southwest Longhorns last Thursday, May 11, by a score of 4-1.

Marvin Golish, leading catcher of the league, pitched a superb game, allowing the heavy hitting Goldbugs only two hits.

Meanwhile, three McKinley pitchers vainly tried to check the persistent hitting of the Longhorns, who scored all of their four runs in the fifth inning.

The Goldbug defeat gave Central full possession of first place.

Batteries for Southwest were Golish, pitch; Danner, catch. For McKinley: Christy, Bucheck, and Glore, pitch; Thaler, catch.

Longhorns Annex Victory Over St. Louis U. High In Non-league Game

The Southwest Longhorns annexed another victory last Tuesday, May 9, by nipping St. Louis U. High, 9-8, in a non-league game at the National Night Ball Park.

Southwest scored four runs in the second inning but saw this lead tied by the junior Billikens in the third, who then added four more in the fourth. Southwest fell one run short in the sixth, scoring three runs, before a last inning rally when two runs crossed the plate.

Batteries for Southwest were Hall and Feeney, pitch; D'Harlingle, catch. For St. Louis U., Mueller and Portell, pitch; Stolle, catch.

JEAN HILL'S TEAM WINS VOLLEYBALL CONTEST

On Wednesday afternoon, May 17, a series of three games was played between the two highest teams — one headed by Eleanor Rothenberg, and the other by Jean Hill—for the volleyball championship of Southwest. Jean Hill's team was victorious, winning two out of the three games. Eleanor Rothenberg's team finished second; Audrey Turck's, third; and Esther Barclay's, fourth.

SOUTHWEST SHUTS OUT WASH. U. FRESHMEN

Marvin Golish, the terror of base stealers when behind the plate, was turned into a pitcher by Coach Young on Friday, May 5, and scored a shut-out over the Washington U. Freshmen by the score of 5-0. This is the first shutout in the record of our new baseball team.

This, however, was a non-league game and was played on Liggett Field on the Washington U. campus.

Eight Lettermen To Graduate With June 1939 Class

At the time of the publication of this issue, eight members of the senior class have been awarded letters for their participation on the athletic teams of the school. As yet no letters have been awarded in baseball, football, or the 1939 track season.

DON PEPPE

Don is the only senior who received two letters in athletics. He was awarded these letters for his achievements in tennis and track. Besides being an athletic star, Don was voted the most popular boy in the senior class.

KENNETH MEYER

Kenny was awarded his athletic letter in basketball. He was a guard on the team; and although the team didn't win first place, Kenny was always in there fighting. Kenny was also the president of our Southwest band.

BILL LANCASTER

Bill also received his letter in basketball. He played center and proved himself an efficient addition to the team.

BOB HOEHL

Bob was another member of the basketball team who received a letter for this sport. He was a regular guard but at times Coach Gerber had him at center.

JIM HENCKEN

Jim was the captain of our first basketball team and stayed in the games more quarters than any other player.

SAM WOOL

Besides being chosen the most bashful boy in the senior class, Sam got along fine on our tennis team. He received his letter for his fine work on the team.

JIMMY WORTMAN

Jim was the fifth member of the basketball team to receive his letter. Jim is that blond curly-headed kid who goes around school charming the ladies. Jim was rewarded for his good-looks by being chosen the best-looking boy in the senior class. He played about all the positions on the floor.

ROGER BISCHMAN

And last, but not least, is Roger Bischman, who was one of the mainstays on our last year's senior track team.

SOUTHWEST TRACK TEAM LOSES TO BEAUMONT

For the first time in the 1939 season Southwest's track team went down in defeat in all divisions. The Longhorns' opponent was Beaumont who showed overwhelming power in all divisions. Beaumont won by a total score of 173 to 85.
